Today is a busy day for Bob.
What will he need to do the job?
His screwdriver!

Got a loose screw?
With a turn and a twist,

Bob tightens it up with a flick of his wrist.

He screws door hinges
into the wall.

Bob can fix anything—
large or small!

Look! The office desk is in need of repair.

Bob tightens the screws with special care.

Bob's finally finished.
The day is done.

Now watch TV,
and have some fun.
Nice work, Bob!
